
No Johnson News Session
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)
—President Johnson will hold no news conference this week, the White House said today. There was also no immediate word in Washington when Johnson would hold his next session with newsmen. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said whether Mr. Johnson would deliver an radio and television address on news conferences.

DEC 4 1963

has come to the attention of our very alert team of reporters (and we have from six to 12 men working on this story every day) has failed to support any version other than the one with which you are familiar, namely that Oswald did kill the President, that it was an individual act, and that his slaying was also an individual event.

With every good wish,

Harrison E. Salisbury
